COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The warrant for the annual town meeting is being posted this week. There are five less articles than a year ago. The two new articles concern installing Christmas lights in cooperation with the Lions Club and an appropriation if the town takes favorable action.

It is expected that the town report will be ready for distribution by next Monday. Distribution will be by mail to all persons entitled to receive a copy. Several pages of the report are devoted to a review of the various appropriation accounts as to how the money was expended. Also a page is devoted to "Looking Ahead" which lists projects to be given consideration in the future.

Even though there has been an increase in sanding this winter a comparison of the Jan. 1959 expenditures with Jan. 1958 for snow removal shows that the expense has been $1,928.28 less than a year ago for the same period. If the same saving can be effected for February it will not be necessary to ask for any increase in the snow removal appropriation. However this depends on the number of storms that we have before the end of the month.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Grade Six Mrs. Doris Lord
We are very happy to welcome Linda Olson back to school. She broke her leg the last of January. She has a comfortable chair and foot-stool here at school and manages her crutches quite well. We wish to thank the people who made our Valentine Party such a success. Mrs. Doris Lord, Mrs. Edna Lord, Mrs. Iva Hildreth, Mrs. Alice Kimball, Mrs. Margaret Dean, Mrs. Franklin B. Chapman, Mrs. Cynthia Goudge, Mrs. Harriet Goudge, Mrs. Doris Harris, Mrs. Ann Fox, Mrs. Helen Hunsdale, Mrs. Sarah Andrews, Mrs. Lewis Merrill, Mrs. Edith MacKenzie, Allan Swan, Geneva Kimball. Your food was delicious. Mrs. Lord contributed the punch. Emma Daye, Judith Lapham, Linda Lowell, and Barbara Hutchinson did excellent jobs on the committee. Our February bulletin display is for Lincoln, Washington, Langston, Edison, and St. Valentine. Emma Daye and Judith Lapham made two portable T.V. sets for use in the P.T.A. program. These were used Tuesday evening at the meeting.

Grade Six Mrs. Verner
We had a Valentine Party last Friday. Brenda Deane, Diane Swain and Billy Kende made the box. Lillian Brown, Jimmy Davis, Margaret Mould, Karl Goudge, Robert Kimball, Geneva Dean, Gertrude Waldron, Raymond Hathaway and Miss Verner brought refreshments. The Room-Mothers, Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Wheeler (Emma's mother), served refreshments. Everyone made a headband to wear, and a name card in the shape of a heart pinned on himself. We had a very nice time.

Farmers who own young calves seem to be experiencing more and more winter losses due to a condition known as "pneumonia-enteritis" complex.

Today, this is causing an annual loss estimated at more than $20,000,000. It has become such a problem that it has been singled out as one of the major targets of National Livestock Loss Prevention Year in 1959.

Keep calves in small group.

Drugs, too, is two diseases in one—cold pneumonia and bacterial or worm worms. Either of the two is serious, but when the two combine both, the consequences can be disastrous. Winter confinement, calves are more likely to pick up the disease worms and bacteria from a contaminated pen and bedding.

The best way to check pneumonia-enteritis is to have treatment started when first symptoms appear. Symptoms may include fever, loss of appetite, coughing, rapid breathing and general weakness. Coughing may begin to be persistent symptoms appear. The owner may observe an increase in the calf's temperature, when it may actually mean the onset of the fatal pneumonia-enteritis problem. For these symptoms appear, it is best to have a veterinarian make a diagnosis, to make sure when diagnosis comes.

It is best to isolate sick calves and pens them in dry, well-ventilated quarters if treatment is begun promptly. The chances of the calves surviving are improved considerably. One item on the plan also is that calves who recover usually carry lasting immunity.

From the preventive standpoint, the farmer can take several precautions. Steps being sure that calves have the first milk or colostrum, keeping calves housed in pens, or in small groups of the same age, making sure that pens are well ventilated, and dry, and that they have ample dry bedding.

During early January our school days were so irregular that we were unable to get our writing tests completed in time. However, Miss O'Connor allowed us to pass them in with those for February. Today we received a gold seal for each month's work.

On Friday forenoon we had a Valentine party before the Junior Primary people went home. Our Valentine box was a little house representing St. Valentine's Home. Five 3rd grade people played postman. It took sixty minutes for the delivery. What lots of pretty Valentines! After we looked, and swapped looks at them there were refreshments of sandwiches, chocolate milk, and heart-shaped mints. Michael's mother sent us a box of Jiffy, too. (Thank you, Mrs. Gordon.) What fun we had! We were sorry Charles, Sherwood, David Hale, and Nancy were not able to come to the party.

Last Friday, with the exception of one 2nd grader who forgot to do an "H", the second and third grade people all had 100% in spelling for the week.

Next week we plan to come to school on Monday and Tuesday to make up two days we have lost, more than the other schools in town have, before we take our vacation.

and we thank the Mothers for their help. In Arithmetic we are reducing larger fractions. Our next Social Studies project will be on the countries of Latin America.

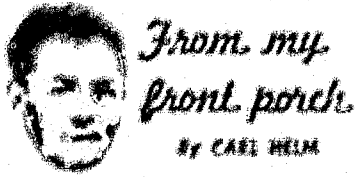

Grade Four Miss Ballard
We were pleased to receive a gold star in writing for last month. Catherine McKowan left Monday for Florida, where she will be until April. On Monday we had a Fourth Grade visitor from Portsmouth, N. H. Wallace Pickering. We are looking forward to our vacation next week.

Grade Five Mrs. Kneeland
Last week Mr. Dana Douglass, Jr. spoke to our class on Rocks and Minerals. He brought some of his collection to show to us. We enjoyed his visit. At 2:30 on Friday we all enjoyed a Valentine party with lots of goodies to eat. We had nice movies on Yosemite. We have a picture display on our bulletin board of Winter Birds. Each one has chosen a bird to report on. We have new workbooks in Reading. School closes Friday for a week. Rebecca Keniston reporter.

Grade Five
Friday afternoon we had a Valentine party. Last week we had a substitute teacher Mrs. Morton. We made pictures and wrote stories about Abraham Lincoln. And now we are studying George Washington. We are now studying the Middle Atlantic States. Reported by Maryanne Rolfe and Mary Merrill.

Grade Seven Mrs. Goudge
Both reports were due Wednesday. In penmanship we got a gold star. We have had quite a few people absent this week. The Valentine party in our room was a great success. We placed the names of the countries and lakes on a map of Asia this week. Miss Merrill.

Grade Eight
Today the eighth-grade class went to Augusta State House to attend legislature and public hearings. Both of the eighth-grade rooms got a gold seal in penmanship. The eighth-grade is in the process of electing a class marshal for graduation. Reported by Raymond Harrington, Dale Lapham.

Televisions has its critics. One I like to think of the warmth and inspiration which some of the programs bring into our homes.

There's one — "This Is Your Life" — which invariably is uplifting because it deals with real, average, normal people, their struggles, their heartaches, and their triumphs.

They come to us with their careworn, spontaneously told life stories — not so-called "celebrities" who live in mansions, but, for the most part, humble, unpretentious, hometown men and women who might be our own neighbors.

They have faced some of our own problems and, through faith and courage and sacrifice, solved them. They are modest and unassuming, making neither credit nor reward — and surprised that anyone should think that they deserved it.

I have seldom seen one of these programs that didn't bring a lump in my throat, and some strength and courage in my heart. It seems to me that if TV gave us nothing else, "This Is Your Life" would more than make up for it.

Sightseeing In St. George, Bermuda

Visitors to the Old Town of St. George, the first Capital of tiny mid-Atlantic Bermuda, find that the best mode of transportation is the bicycle. Even Bermuda's midsize cars have difficulty negotiating the maze of narrow streets and lanes. This young couple are pictured on Pinter's Alley, named in honor of Joseph Stockdale, Bermuda's first printer, whose house stands above the lane. During 1959, many of the island's 35th Anniversary celebrations will center on the Old Town with its quaint centuries old stone houses and high-walled gardens that surround them.

MAN'S RECIPE

HOLEMAN PUMPKIN

PUDDING

As we tramp along the corduroy road of time, many of us think of the days of yesteryear. It is a new world and some of us believe not necessarily a better one. Change isn't necessarily progress. I would like a winter supper of Mother's baked corn, pilot crackers and for dessert, I would like one of those big, fluffy pumpkin puddings. Probably Mother did not use a recipe, but her own dash. And the pudding is one I have had and try if you like pumpkin flavor. Four ancestors were not all dyspeptic and you need not with imagination enough to give names such as those to pumpkin varieties: Yum Yum, Pumpkin Beauty, White Queen, Sweet Cheese, Golden Cloud, Rhode Island Sweet, Winter Beauty, Cranberry Black Zerkel, and Pumpkin Alphabet.

Use one cup sugar, one tablespoon plus one teaspoon flour, one half teaspoon salt, one half teaspoon ginger, one half teaspoon nutmeg, one half teaspoon allspice, one eighth teaspoon cloves, one tablespoon brown sugar, one and a half cups cooked or canned pumpkin, two cups cream, two eggs beaten.

Combine sugar, flour, salt and spices in a bowl. Add egg and mix with milk and sugar mixture.

Pour into greased casserole and place casserole in pan of warm water. Bake at 350 for about one hour or until a silver knife will come and clean when put into the casserole. Like this so in but some of our friends and I have with with cream or vanilla ice cream.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

FEBRUARY SOUNDS

Sounds in the air tell us that winter is wearing on. Each month of the year has distinctive traits, and February, a drab gray and white month to many, has story telling sounds.

When a warm spell arrives and gray-green rivulets trickle down and tracks from the wood lot, you hear the bluejay far-ranging bawls as they flash across the canopy. Chickadees know that winter is coming and they, and a multitude of other birds, are filled with their "two-note" spring songs as they poke around the old Astrakhan by the hen house. A lone crow in the meadow chirps a hopeful "caw-caw" across the granite snow.

The hollow, echoing sound of snow blows in the woodlot carries far on a quiet, second-month day. The call of the chick now rises and descends as sharp and clear through wood that may have been growing for a century. A hillside farmer, grunting his Northern Siles, Rumsda and Sheep House, looks down the valley as the tracks scurry along the city, and even the tamest Mead of the forest seems muted and softened in the warm February air.

On mellow pleasant days, farmers let their cows out for exercise, and the plaintive moos of the cows convey their longing for spring. A dog's bark from the farmstead across the valley sounds strangely clear; the muted notes of the village bell float by overhead. No longer does one hear the high-pitched sounds of sled runners on hard-packed snow; no longer does one hear the music of sleigh bells on a winter landscape. But when it is February, there are

TODAY'S meditation

Thursday, February 19

Read II Timothy 2:13-26
Every branch in me that bears fruit will be taken away; and every branch that bears fruit, he purges it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (John 15:2)

EACH year on the first spring-like day in February, I take time to prune my grapevines. When we moved into our present house, the three grapevines on the arbor had been neglected and so bore little fruit. A friend taught me how to prune the vines. After cutting them back severely, I feared I would have no grapes. But in the fall I had luscious grapes in abundance!

My loving Lord comes to cut away the fruitless branches of my self-effort and feeble service to make way for His renewed grace and strength. The pruning process is painful, but I know my heavenly Father is the husbandman.

As I accept His help, I feel a new surge of peace and have the assurance of His presence. Life takes on renewed meaning as I live in obedience to His will and in the hope of bearing fruit for Him.

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee that Thou dost look after each of us, Thy children, in love and tenderness. Prune away the dead branches of our lives, and fill us anew with the Holy Spirit. Keep us abiding in Christ, our living vine, that we may bring forth fruit for Thee. In the name of Thy Son, Amen.

Thought For The Day
Obedience to God's way means fruitful living.

Opportunities in the Smaller Steel Companies

Steel shares have performed excellently in the rising market of the past year. This reflected the industry's maintenance of a fair measure of earning power even when the operating rate declined substantially (at one point below 50% of rated capacity). As might be expected the industry leaders' profits held up best and their stocks have now gained or surpassed former price levels in many cases. At present a number of the leading steel issues have reached prices where there appears to be little room for further near-term appreciation.

Among the smaller companies on the other hand the opportunities appear more promising. Their earnings power slumped more sharply and the good recovery in recent months, are in many instances still well below 1957 levels. Earnings have been improving steadily since the summer and should be at attractive levels during the first half of 1959. The producers of specialty and stainless steels are likewise enjoying expanding operations and even greater operating rates are indicated in the coming months. The stainless and alloy producers, while having a changeable earning picture, have demonstrated an impressive growth pattern in recent years, easily double the growth in usage for the normal grades of steel.

Wheeling Steel: Close to $3 per share was earned in 1958 and current operations are at a high rate. $2 a share for the first quarter appears to be a possibility, with galvanized, tin plate, and cold rolled sheet lines in good demand.

Colorado Fuel & Iron: Earnings plummeted sharply in 1958 but a good recovery is taking place. Granite City Steel: St. Louis has become a substantial automobile assembly and parts manufacturing center in recent years, and Granite City has profited by this development as the only steel plant in this locality.

Pittsburgh Steel: This steel company has been rebuilt to a great degree in the past decade. First of all, its product mix was altered and now finishing facilities have been expanded and are in better balance.

Allegheny-Ludlum: This is the leading stainless steel concern, having also perhaps the leading position in titanium via its 50% interest in Titanium Metals of America in partnership with National Lead.

Copperweld Steel: The company's earning power recovered sharply in the fourth quarter of 1958 when $1.22 per share was earned. $5.48 a share appears a good possibility for 1959.

Universal Cylcoplast: Universal produces alloy, stainless, and high temperature electric steels, and has also done considerable work in vacuum melting. In 1958, with most new facilities running, the company could earn $1 given a fair operating rate.

Eastern Stainless Steel: Volume has expanded rapidly in the past few years, and profitability is above the industry average. New melting and rolling facilities have strengthened the company's competitive position and increased the earnings potential.

On Jan. 24 and 25, the girls' ski team journeyed to Andover for the State Ski Championships. They were competing with three other teams: Edward Little, Farmington and Wilton. The girls did a fine job in downhill which was run on a mile and a half course with no check gates. This event was won by B. Bigelow of Farmington with a time of 61.3 seconds. Sixth in the meet and first for Gould was Jane Greig with 71.3 seconds, just ten seconds behind the winner. Close behind was Beth Brown with a sixth place.

In the somewhat shorter slalom course, Gould picked up a few points to nudge E.L.'s half point lead after the downhill. June Lake of Wilton took the honors with a combined time of 91.4 sec-

ons. Gould's snappy little Beth Brown took a fifth in the meet and a first for Gould with a 108.6 combined time. In just reversed order from downhill Jane Greig took a seventh in the meet to follow Beth with second for Gould. The Huskies had a final team score of 149.73, second only to Farmington.

Bowling
The results of this year's bowling scores have been compiled and the results seem very pleasing to most people.

The junior class won the peg by having an average of 78. Next were the seniors with 71; not far behind were the sophomores with 70; and the freshmen, who although lost in scores rank high in spirit, with an average of 67.

Although the sophomores didn't have a high average, they came through with the high scorer who is Claire Berry with an average of 91.

The high scorers for the year following Claire are: Betty Korhonen 87, Donna Smith 87, Ruth Stevens 86, Lona Keniston 84, and Pam Young 83.

Kents Hill Sport Day
Ski Meet

The girls' races took place on a beautiful powder-laden hill with perfect all-around conditions. Slalom was the first event of the day with two runs, using the combined time as the final score. Mary Stowell of Dixfield who attends Kents Hill, had the winning time of 92.2 seconds. Second in the meet and first place for Gould was Beth Brown whose final time was 108.3 seconds. The girls had quite a bit of trouble in slalom, thus losing many points in the final analysis.

The downhill was run on the same course with no check gates making it a speedy trip. There was a trial run plus two actual runs for combined time. Mary Stowell of Kents Hill again took the honors with a flying time of 48.4 seconds. Gould's only senior skier, Jane Greig, was fifth in the meet and first for Gould with a combined time of 57.4 seconds. Due primarily to failure to place in slalom, the Gould team ended up on the bottom with Kents Hill taking first place.

Basketball games
The varsity teams of Gould and Kents Hill played one of the fastest girls' games seen in a long while. Although the final score was 40-31 in Kents Hill's favor the Huskies were out in front until the last quarter, playing a fine game. The defense was excellent and J. Smith and S. Appleton each scored 12 points for Gould.

The jayvees reversed the pattern and won 22-9. This was a shorter and slower game than the varsity although equally as exciting. The high scorers for Gould were B. Angevine and C. Biddle-

Junior Class Record Hop

The Junior Class held a Record Hop February 6, which proved to be very successful financially.

Freshman Class Meets

February 4, the Freshman Class held a special meeting in order to choose a class motto. The committee, consisting of Pauline Korhonen, Georgia Hilder, Martha Perham, Robert Holt, and Herbert Hicks, had met earlier with their class advisor, Mrs. Ross, and submitted a number of very good quotations. Out of these, three were chosen to be brought before the class to be voted upon. These were: "The highest of distinctions is service to others," "He who walks with the wise shall be wise," and "Climb far, your goal the sky, your aim the star." "Climb far, your goal the sky, your aim the star," received a majority vote and thus became a goal for our entire class to achieve.

At this same meeting, it was decided that we would sponsor an ad in the Nautilus.

Good Printing SERVES EVERYBODY

Good printing is a necessity in all forms of business. It can save hours of work, speed up routine tasks, eliminate common errors and help to avoid misunderstandings and costly delays or actual loss of business revenue.

Good printing is a convenience in the home. Inexpensive personal stationery is not only economical and in good taste but it is plain "good business" when used for other than social purposes. One's name and address plainly printed offer exact information of your identity in occasional correspondence.

The latest in modern business forms can be adapted to use in many comparatively small businesses. As a matter of economy of time and money, it will pay to see what we can do for you in this line.

Remember that printed matter can be bought at widely varying prices. The bargain hunter can only hope to get his money's worth. The cost of good printing need not be high, and the buyer is assured of satisfaction.

It will be of advantage to all users of printed matter to consult us before buying. We can supply calendars, NCR and one-time carbon forms, many kinds of forms and office supplies promptly and economically.

Club Women's Driving Contests Make Life Safer

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

MEMBERS of women's clubs are competing "behind the wheel" these days instead of engaging in cooking, sewing or knitting contests.

In York, Me., for instance, women in the Association of Commerce recently organized a "Safe - T - Drive" in which representatives of 25 clubs participated.

Following a written examination on safe driving techniques, the women took to their steering wheels and met in combat on a road-off downtown street. A gold bracelet was awarded the club member who most skillfully demonstrated her ability to park and to maneuver a car on the planned obstacle course.

Driving tests, similar to the tests given in England, Va., because a representative from each of the participating women's clubs and a member of each of the men's service organizations.

An obstacle course is set up in a large parking lot, with the top scoring men and women receiving trophies attesting to their driving skills.

But, more important than any trophy, is the comment of a police officer who said, "After these contests, driving is a lot safer for everyone involved. They remember the first rule of safety—courtesy to others."
